

Note: if for some reason you can't have the videos stream in the browser, check the following settings in the AWS console:

Within your bucket, right-click on the video to bring up the contextual menu, and select "Properties". Under "Metadata", make sure that the Key is "Content-Type" and that its associated value is "video/mp4" (you may have to manually set it).

You may also need to manually edit bucket permissions (check view permissions for everyone) for the video to stream.