Assignment: Set Up Continuous Integration with Circle CI

Circle CI is a popular Continuous Integration service. Setting up your project with Circle CI is pretty simple - link and authorize your Github account, then add the repository that you want to enable CI. By default, Circle CI runs on every push and PR merge.

Since Circle will run your tests, make sure that you set up necessary environment variables there too.

> You marked this topic or exercise as completed.